

IoT@AReality3D

Touch the screen!

The HackPack AR from the HackPack from Twilio Signal Conference 2019 is a parody example of phone based IoT interaction... we augment a virtual screen on a real screen (which happens to be damaged).

ML recognition can turn any object in the real world to a primary key. Interface Reality provides an intuitive interface for these objects where reading or writing of data makes sense.